

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

An error-handling framework is provided for business process transactions. The error-handling framework facilitates coordination of the invocation of exception and compensation handlers in response to errors. The error-handling framework 5 includes support for custom ordering of compensation actions, data flow into and out of compensation actions, and management of the process state visible to compensation actions.